ROBBERS HOLD UP TRAIN EL PASO AND SOUTHWEST

El Paso, June 10.—Two hundred and seventeen dollars in cash, a diamond ring and several other trinkets was all that rewarded the cold-blooded daring of a lone robber, who shortly after midnight held up the north bound passenger train on the El Paso & Southwestern near Robart, New Mexico. The railroad today refunded to the robbed passengers the money taken from them and offered a reward of $2,500 for the capture of the robber.

A posse left Carrizozo this morning on the trail of the robber, who fled across the desert towards the mountains.

Shortly before midnight last night the east bound passenger train, No. 2 of the El Paso & Southwestern R. R. was held up by a lone bandit, who herded the occupants of the sleeping car into the private car of Supt. G. F. Hawks. In the rear of the train and compelled them to deposit their money and valuables in a heap. He then swept the plunder into a bag, jumped from the train and after shooting out the rear lights made his escape across the desert towards the mountains.

The hold up occurred a mile east of Robart, New Mexico, near Carrizozo. The territorial mounted police are in pursuit of the daring robber.

The occupants of the sleeper were left destitute and are being cared for by the railroad company.

Santa Fe, N. M., June 10.—According to a special to the New Mexican the highwayman who held up the El Paso & Southwestern train near Robart last night, did not secure so much plunder as at first reported.

The bandit entered the tourist car and although he did his work thoroughly did not exceed for his haul, a total of $200. He also secured considerable jewelry.

A SENSIBLE TALK TO MEN ONLY.

ROUGH NECKS NEEDN'T LOSE ANY TIME ON WHAT MR. DENNING HAS TO SAY

"And it is not to rough-necks."

"Men who don't care a snap of their fingers how they appear."

"It's to Mister Man Worth While."

"Listen to me."

"I want to look you straight in your eye."

"I want to say to you that you can't be properly and faultlessly attired by securing your clothes at a ready-made shop. They must be made to your measure, made to fit and cut and trimmed in a way that has not many of the little disgusting frills and belows that the ready-made manufacturers strive for effect by adding."

"I'll make a proposition."

"Let me take your measure for your suit and if you're not better satisfied with your general appearance than you ever were before it's a suit on me."

"I want it to be known every where in the Pecos Valley that I have made this talk and I can be located at 108 West Second Street, at DENNING'S FIT-WELL TAILORING ESTABLISHMENT."

Yours fit-wellingly,

When the Kaiserine Auguste Victoria turned her prow westward this afternoon Mr. Roosevelt found himself on the final lap of what has in many respects been the most remarkable trip accomplished by a private citizen. His hunting trips in Africa, his series of speeches in Egypt and Europe and his controversy with the Vatican have excited the liveliest interest throughout the world. A program of entertainments has been carried out in his honor such as perhaps never before have been arranged for one who had retired to private life.

His final day in England was one of seclusion and rest. He was the guest of Sir Edward Grey at the latter's home in Hampshire and together they tramped for hours through the New forest, the ancient royal hunting grounds, rich in its fauna and flora.

One of the most important matters before the meeting is the international congress to be held in Washington next year, when mothers from over the seas will come to this country to give and receive advice on the rearing of children. Mrs. Clore was badly bruised all over the body, but escaped with no broken bones. One of her daughters received a deep gash in her forehead and bruises. The horse ran on up Pennsylvania, finally dashing the buggy against a tree and breaking it all to pieces. The wreck of the buggy was complete.
